

This document outlines the guidelines and processes for advertisers, bloggers and anyone who wants to publish a guest article, sponsored article on ampercent.com or is interested in buying banner ad space, text link ads and other promotional opportunities at ampercent.com.

To see statistics and analytics data of the website, please go to the stats section at the end of the document.

Guest Blogging Guidelines

We have stopped accepting guest posts due to the trend of writing low quality content, just to win a free backlink. If you want to publish your piece on the website, please adhere to the sponsored content guidelines given below.

On rare occasions, we can make an exception if the blogger is non commercial in nature and contributes a really informative piece. If that's you and you want to take a chance, please send your article as a word doc to webmaster@ampercent.com with the subject line - Guest post submission on Ampercent.com

Please note that this exception is not made for businesses, companies or establishments who have their commercial offering in place. This exception is only made for fellow bloggers, students and other non profit organizations who want to get their piece published on the site.

Please also note that while you are encouraged to send in the guest article, but that does not guarantee that we will publish it on the site. We get more than 100 emails each day for guest posts so it is not possible for us to reply to each and every email. Hence, if you do not hear back from us, you can conclude that the request wasn't approved and you are free to use the article on other websites. If we decide to choose your article for publishing, we will let you know that we have chosen your article and it will be published on which date.

Sponsored Content or Blog Post Guidelines

We do publish sponsored content on our website and this is a great opportunity for business owners to showcase their product to our audience and win dofollow links in return.

Here is the procedure to publish a sponsored content on the website - Ampercent.com

1. Sponsored articles remain forever on the website and never deleted. You get it published once means it is going to stay forever unless the website goes down. If the website or the links goes down, we may choose to remove it later on.
2. If you are writing the article yourself, the fee is $70 per article. If you want our team to write the article for you, it will cost $100 per article. The prices are non negotiable.
3. Each article may contain up-to 3 do-follow backlinks of your choice.
4. Links to spam sites, pornographic sites, gambling sites or any other site which is not compliant with Google webmaster quality guidelines will not be entertained.
5. Plagiarized content or copyrighted content is not entertained.

Banner advertising guidelines

We do support banner advertising on the website and the following advertising positions are currently available. The monthly fee for each position is given below

Monthly and yearly fee for each position

Name of the Ad Unit	Monthly Fee	Yearly Fee
Leaderboard	$250	$2500
Sidebar Top	$200	$2000
Sidebar Bottom	$150	$1500
Below Content	$200	$2000
Footer leaderboard	$100	$1000

Text Link Ad guidelines

In general, we do not support text link ads on the website but on some occasions we may decide to make an exception. If you want to insert a do-follow link in an existing post or page of the website, please write an email to webmaster@ampercent.com with the following details

- The URL of the post or Page where you want to insert your link
- The anchor text
- The target URL

Please use the subject line - Text Link Ad on Ampercent.com before sending the email.

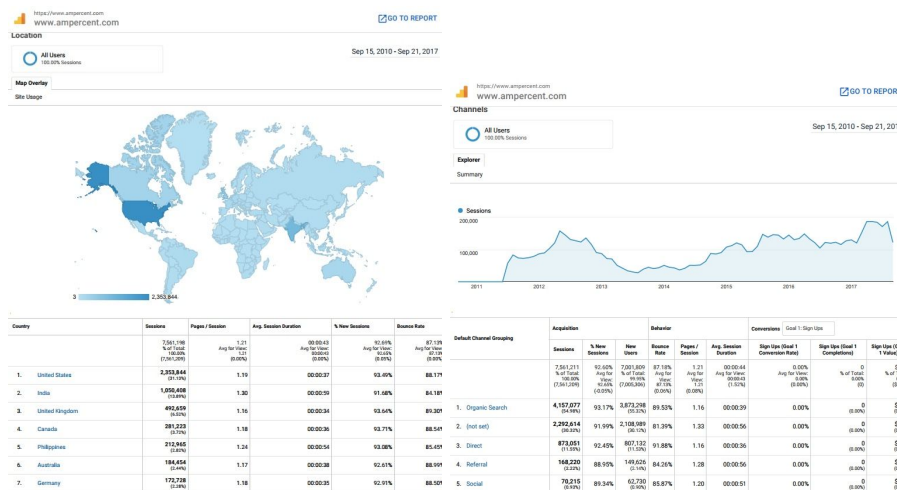

We will look into your request and if found suitable, we will get back to you. We get tons of emails every day for text link ads and it is not viable for us to reply to each and every email. Hence, if you do not hear back from us, you can conclude that the request wasn't approved.

Contextual Links and Affiliate Partnership

We do not support ad networks with contextual linking or parties promoting their affiliate products to us in exchange of any partnership.
